

In order to be better , let us not forget our wounds

We are inviting all men, women, children of good will to spend some time in prayer,
each person in his/her own home, in intimate silence

Very many others who have understood that no one reaches salvation by themselves. In the face of so much suffering, where the authentic development of our peoples is assessed, we experience the priestly prayer of Jesus: “That they may all be one”.

Embracing the Lord in order to embrace hope: that is the strength of faith, which frees us from fear and gives us hope.

Pope Francis - 27 March 2020 extraordinary moment of prayer

One other important thing we can do is to knock on the door of the God of all humanity with a grieving heart through our supplication.

Therefore, I urge everyone to pray for the health and safety of humanity at this difficult time.

May God, the Most Compassionate, save humanity from this pandemic, cure those who are ill, and give perseverance to those who lost their loved ones.

M. Fethullah Gülen - 13 March 2020

The traditional Jewish religious recipe (and not only) for these circumstances, after the order to follow medical prescriptions, is based on three points: social solidarity (because other human beings are more at risk than us), prayer (because everything does not end in the human perspective) and the adjustment of one's behavior... Which is perhaps the most difficult thing to do.

Rav Riccardo Di Segni - Il Messaggero, 19 March 2020

This situation has great potential to help each of us to reduce our selfish behaviors and attitudes and increase our generosity in support of each other. We need to stay connected and encourage people to express their goodness from within, which ultimately helps others
